FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

The Postmaster General is Short of Funds and he wants Congress to Know It.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The Vice President laid before the Senate a communication from the Postmaster General, transmitting a letter from the Assistant Postmaster General, calling attention to the insufficiency of the appropriation for inland mail transportation for the present fiscal year, and recommending that two million dollars be reappropriated out of the unexpended balance of former appropriations for the purpose during the last four years, which have been covered into the treasury, and be made available to meet the necessities of the service. Referred to the committee on appropriations.

On motion of Mr. Davis, of West Virginia, the resolution heretofore submitted by him calling on the Secretary the Treasury for the statement by States of the amount paid out of the Treasury since 1866 on claims growing out of the late war, was taken up. Pending the discussion the morning hour expired, and the resolution went over on motion of Mr. Davis, of Illinois, at 1:05.

The Senate then went into executive session.

Mr. Bayard, from the committee on finance, reported back the Senate bill for the interchange of subsidiary silver coins, and asked its indefinite postponement. So ordered.

Mr. Bayard also reported back a bill to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to issue ten million dollars of four per cent bonds for the payment of arrears of pensions, and asked its indefinite postponement. So ordered.

The Senate in executive session this afternoon confirmed the nomination of Secretary McCreary to be U. S. Circuit Judge for the eighth circuit without debate or division.

HOUSE.

Mr. Pound, of Wisconsin, introduced a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution, providing that after the 4th of March, 1885, the President and Vice President shall hold their offices for six years and shall be ineligible for more than one term consecutively and that the members of Congress shall be elected for three years. Referred.

The speaker then proceeded to call the States for bills of reference.

Under call of States about three hundred bills were introduced, most of them of a private character. Among those of a general public interest were the following:

By Mr. Money, of Louisiana: A bill declaring certain kinds of matter unmailable and defining the duties of the Postmaster General in connection therewith. This bill was prepared by the law officers of the postoffice department, and embodies the views of that department with regard to the lottery question.

By Mr. Goode, of Virginia: A bill to aid the education of the colored race by an appropriation for that purpose of the unpaid bounties and pay of colored soldiers.

By Mr. Felton, of Georgia: A bill for the admission of Peruvian bark and all preparations thereof free of duty.

By Mr. Chalmers, of Mississippi: For the erection of postoffice at Vicksburg and Natches.

By Mr. Ellis, of Louisiana: Abrogating the power of executive officers to allow indemnity scrip for unsatisfied private land claims, and vesting that power in the United States Court.

By Mr. Wood, of New York: To amend the laws relating to the internal revenue. It provides for an allowance of a drawback on all manufactured tobacco included in the provisions of the act of March 1st, 1879, which drawback shall equal in value the amount by which the tax paid on such tobacco exceeded the sixteen cents per pound now imposed.

By Mr. Felton, of Georgia, to protect innocent persons from criminal prosecutions. It provides for the repeal of sections 1,022, revised statues, in order to prohibit the use of criminal informations in criminal prosecutions and give every criminal the right of trial under regular indictment.

By Mr. Myers, of Indiana, to retire national bank notes and substitute United States treasury notes therefore.

By Mr. Kenna, of West Virginia, to settle the claims of citizens of West Virginia for losses sustained during the late war of property chargeable to the United States.

By Mr. Warner, of Ohio, for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the question relating to interstate commerce.

By Mr. Wood, of New York, offered a concurrent resolution providing for the adjournment of Congress from December the 23d to January the 6th. After an amendment making the date of adjournment the 19th instant instead of the 23d; it was agreed to. At 2:50 the House went into committee of the whole on the bill defining the duties of the reporter of the United States Supreme Court and without any final action thereon. The committee rose and the House adjourned.

Virginia Nominations.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 9.—The readjusters of the General Assembly were in caucus last night until midnigh., making nominations for State officers. The nominee for Second Auditor is the only one Republican.

The Manchester Cotton Market.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Dec. 9.—The Manchester Guardian of this morning says: "There was a strong market on Monday, and the prices are further advanced, but the most striking feature is the disparity between the views of the buyers and sellers. The consignment business is diminishing in its volume of transactions, and most all of the leading India and China exporters are out of the market, so far as actual business is concerned.

The Fire Record.

ST. LOUIS, December 9.—The flouring mill of Amuel, Hill & Bro., New Athens, Illinois, was burned yesterday. Loss on the mill and machinery $25,000. Insurance $7,500. The mill contained from twenty to thirty thousand bushels of wheat and some flour valued at $25,000, on which there was no insurance.

Meeting of the Roads.

CINCINNATI, December 9.—Parties laying rails on the Cincinnati Southern railroad will meet to-day about seven miles beyond New River, Scott county, Tennessee, two hundred miles from Cincinnati and one hundred and thirty-seven from Chattanooga. The formal opening will take place Christmas.

Miscellaneous Foreign News.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Heavy snow falls are reported throughout Germany and Austrian Switzerland, and from Paris, Madrid, Brussels, Florence, Bologne, Milan, Geneva, Venice, Verona and Rome. At Nantes, the river Loire is frozen.

The cattle plague has broken out on the Island of Cyprus.

C. H. Getting & Co., merchants of London, Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, have suspended.

Severe weather continues in Great Britain and on the continent.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—The municipality of Paris has voted 500,000 francs for the relief of the poor.

The steamer Roscommon from Liverpool for Havana has been capsized and sunk. Six of her crew were drowned.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

It is estimated by competent judges that the tobacco crop of Lancaster and Berks counties, Pa., this year will sell for $4,000,000. This is better than grain-growing.

Captain Benjamin Simonson, one of the oldest and most experienced New York pilots, committed suicide Friday by cutting his throat.

Notice is given in the Canada Gazette that application will be made for an act to create the shareholders in the "Compagnie Francaise du Telegraphe de Paris et New York," a corporation within the Dominion of Canada, under the name of "The French Atlantic Cable Company."

A large fly wheel, thirty feet in diameter and weighing sixty tons, exploded at the Rensselaer rail mill, Troy, N. Y., on Friday night, causing $10,000 damage to the building and fatally injuring a heater named James Wallace.

Ben. Wong, who was arrested at Portland, Oregon, on suspicion of being Jack Bishop, of Colorado, an alleged murderer, has been released from custody, it having been shown that he was not the guilty party.

Judge Van Brunt, of New York, has decided that the actual name of George the Count Joannes is George Jones, and that as the Count Joannes he has no legal entity or status, and is, so to speak, without form and void.

The University of the South, at Sewanee, Tennessee, is to be endowed with three memorial professorships, to bear the names of Bishops Elliott, Polk and Otey, of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The bell-punch register has come to be regarded in Texas as a mere farce. In Houston one leading saloon which registered over one thousand three hundred on the malt register for October shows only nineteen glasses of beer sold during November.

General Charles Spencer, merchant, Colonel on the retired list of the United States army, died at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, Saturday.

The incorporators of the new Baltimore Corn and Flour Exchange Building Company have been named by Mr. John I. Middleton, President of the Association, and the enterprise will be set a foot promptly.

Hon. W. W. Ketcham, Judge of the United States District Court of the western district of Pennsylvania, died of apoplexy at St. Charles Hotel, in Pittsburg, Sunday. He was a native and resident of Luzerne county, and at one time represented that district in Congress. He was appointed judge of the United States District Court in 1876.

The "make-up" in the treasury department branch of the government printing office has been discharged. There were strong suspicions of him in connection with the sale of the President's message and Secretary Sherman's report. While it was not proved during the investigation that he was the guilty party, circumstances were developed during the examination which were deemed sufficient to base a discharge upon. Public printer Defrees made the removal.

A statue of the late William Cullen Bryant, by Mr. J. S. Hartley, was presented to the Century Club of New York, Saturday evening, by Mr. George Wm. Curtis, in a few appropriate remarks, to which Rev. Dr. Osgood responded.

Chief Sam, of the Piutes, is renowned in Nevada for extraordinary marksmanship with the rifle in off-hand shooting, particularly when, in the wilds and rocky canyons, he is suddenly confronted with a grizzly bear or a California lion. He don't see the fun in shooting glass balls, and he declines such childish tests of manly skill, needing no courage and no presence of mind. "That would do for squaws."

It looks as if "the way they do in Cincinnati" was about to be modified somewhat in respect to Sunday theatricals and concert shows. The police of that gay and festive city shut them all up Friday and promptly arrested everybody they could find violating the order.

At the sand lots, in San Francisco, Denis Kearney announced his intention of being present at the meeting of greenbackers in Washington on January 8th. He will leave next Sunday morning, and goes first to Boston.

General Charles S. Merchant died at his home, in Carlisle, Pa., Saturday. He was one of the oldest officers in the army. No date of his birth is given in the army records, but he was appointed to a cadetship at West Point as early as the summer of 1812. From that time until August 1, 1863, when he was retired "for long and faithful service," he belonged continuously to the artillery branch of the regular army. He was an actor in all our wars except the revolution, receiving promotion for merit up the whole grade.

The Empress Eugenie, a widowed, childless and broken woman, has little comfort in her wealth, which grows as if in mockery. Her late mother's will gives to her the largest share of the Countess's fortune, the rest going to Eugenie's brother-in-law, the Duke of Alba.

Ida Lewis, the heroine of so many rescues of drowning persons, who is now the keeper of the Lime Rocks lighthouse, at Newport, R. I., was recently so ill with diphtheria that her life was greatly in danger, but she is now recovering.

The Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems, of New York, is to sail during the last week of this month on a trip to Egypt and the Holy Land, and will be away for about six months.

The Church of the Strangers, New York, whose edifice was the gift of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, has placed a tablet upon its walls in memory of its benefactor.

Ex-Senator Hipple-Mitchell is prostrated at a San Francisco hotel with a severe attack of pneumonia.

Better than an Alarm Clock.

On Monday night the storehouse of C. C. Jewell, in Panther Branch, was burned. The first to discover the fire was a colored woman, and she wouldn't have known anything about it if a keg of powder hadn't exploded and thereby disturbed her slumbers.

The stock, valued at $4,000, was a total loss, as well as the house, which was valued at $500. It was insured for $250. As no one seemed to know anything of the origin of the fire we might as well set it down as a piece of incendiarism and let it go at that.

FROM NEW YORK CITY.

MEMORIAL OF BUSINESS MEN ON LEGAL TENDERS.

What J. S. Moore Says: "It is not Hostility to the South that makes the North Solid."

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—In connection with the memorial of the business men of New York in favor of the bill or withdrawing the legal tender quality from Greenbacks. The World publishes the following short extract from the letter recently received by J. S. Moore, from Senator Bayard; "It is not hostility to the South that makes the North solid. It is apprehension lest the unwise and ridiculous administration of finances should injure northern property and investments. No instrument is so dangerous as legal tender paper currency, the redeemability of which may be endangered. I do not care half so much for party success in this connection (although I value it most highly) as I do for the great service it would be to our whole country and generations to succeed us."

RAILROAD MATTERS.

The Times to-day says the inquiry at the offices in this city of the companies interested confirms the report published yesterday that the papers have been signed for the union of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Companies, and for the construction of a joint line from Albuquerque, on the Rio Grande in New Mexico to the Pacific coast. The statement, however, that the Chicago and Alton Company is in the scheme is pronounced incorrect. By the terms of the agreement the St. Louis and San Francisco Company has surrendered to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Company, one-half the interest in their franchise as owners of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company which they succeeded, and two companies have pledged themselves jointly to raise twenty-five million dollars for the building of the extension of about one thousand miles long to some point on the coast not designated. The officers intimate they know where they can obtain the money needed, and that the work of building the extension will be begun at the earliest possible moment that the weather will permit next year.

These are all the details that can be obtained for the present.

Tammany's Complaint.

Boston Herald.

The sachems of Tammany Hall have issued a manifesto to the Democracy of the country, explaining their position in the late election in New York State. They assert that they were faithful to all the candidates on the regularly nominated ticket, except Governor Robinson, and accuse that individual of endeavoring to secure his own election, by flooding the State with tickets that were Republican in all save the gubernatorial candidate. This charge, we imagine, is a very weak one, for the work was wholly needless, since the Independent Republicans were engaged in performing this same service. The real burden of Tammany's complaint is that County Clerk Gumbleton was removed from office; though, as a number of prominent citizens of both political parties, produced evidence tending to show that the management of the office of county clerk by the aforesaid Gumbleton was outrageously corrupt, it is difficult to see what other course Governor Robinson could have taken. It is not at all likely that the national Democracy will conclude that Tammany Hall was justified by this action in taking a step, which, on the eve of a Presidential election, transferred the Empire State from the list of certain Democratic to doubtful commonwealths. In view of the fact that Mr. McDavitt is attempting a John Kelly maneuver in Boston, we are some what curious to know whether he will think it necessary to issue a similar address, and plainly state therein his ground for grievance against the present Democratic administration of this city.

Caught on the Fly.

Asheville Journal.

About three months ago, Dick Smart, of Golden Valley Township, Rutherford county, was appointed Deputy Collector for this (the 6th) District. He had hardly become familiar with the blank forms of the Revenue Department before he commenced to swear out warrants indiscriminately, in direct violation of his instructions, as he had been appointed solely with the view of suppressing a few illicit distilleries in his neighborhood, and had no authority whatever for exercising further the functions of a deputy collector. Shortly after his appointment he wrote a letter to W. J. Davis and A. P. Hollifield, Deputy Marshals, proffering to swear out one hundred warrants for the arrest of parties, if the marshals would pay him $3 per warrant, or $330 for the batch. Collector Mott was informed of the peculations of this official fledgling, and he promptly removed him, with the protest that he (Dr. Mott) had been imposed on in making the appointment. If we mistake not, this fellow Smart was indicted in South Carolina for selling brass filings for gold dust. Truly, he is a sweet-scented japonica to sit in judgment on the errors of others.

Jailed.

Asheville Journal.

Tuesday forenoon, Samuel Tipton, of Mitchell county, was before United States Commissioner Summey, charged with perjury. Tipton was a witness at the November term of the United States Court, 1878. The allegation is, that in proving his witness ticket he swore that he had traveled seventy miles, when in reality he had traveled but fifty. The testimony being pretty conclusive, he was committed to jail in default of $500 security for his appearance at the next term of the court.

Still Another Bold Robbery.

Charlotte Observer, 7th.

Night before last several men from Providence township came into the city to look for parties suspected of committing a bold robbery on the dwelling of Mr. James Ray, who lives in that section. After midnight they spotted two negroes who had been working for Mr. Ray during a part of the cotton picking season, and yesterday morning the police arrested them. They are both negroes and pass under the names of Will Lee and Bob Ardrey. Mr. Ray is a farmer and had between $300 and $400 in a drawer of his bureau. Friday morning he discovered that his money was gone. The box or secretaire in which the money was kept was subsequently found near the house rifled of its contents. A window of the dwelling was found open, but there was no sign of it having been broken. The general belief is that the thief concealed himself in the dwelling and escaped in this way. On the evening before the robbery, Mr. Ray paid off his hired people, and among the number were the two arrested here yesterday morning. They had reported that they were going in another direction, but evidently came directly to the city. They are to have a preliminary trial at Pineville this week.

Southern Cotton Factories.

Elizabeth City Telegram.

An important question—in no way related to politics—is just now under discussion at the South. The answer which shall be made to it concerns those with whom it rests to give that answer.

The question is: Shall the South have its own cotton factories?

An experiment to test the possible advantage of spinning cotton in the locality where it is raised has already been made. A mill is now in full operation at Westminster, South Carolina, and thus far the results produced appear to have outstripped the expectations of those who started the enterprise.

The capacity of this factory is said to be between three and four hundred pounds of seed cotton per day, and the yarn manufactured finds ready sale in New York at an average of 16 1-4 cents. According to the Atlanta Constitution, the cotton is taken from the gin and brush on a card and comes out in a roll, and dealers assert that the threads made by this process rate a great deal higher than threads made from compress cotton.

If the foregoing be true, and we take into consideration the money saved on bagging, ties, packing, weighing, storing and transportation, what is to prevent the Southern cotton belt from declaring its commercial independence of New England manufacturers, and furnish the market with a better article at a cheaper rate than the latter now supply?

The only obstacle is the lack of capital for the construction and equipment of the mills, but if the facts support the account given of the work done at the Westminster factory there will be no trouble in obtaining the neccessary funds.

The carbonate fields of Colorado and the mines of California and Arizona present no attractions to the prudent capitalist comparable with those which the manufacture of cotton at the South with such results as we have referred to offers. We are glad therefore, to learn of the interest excited by this question throughout the Gulf States, and trust that a discussion pregnant with such important consequences to the industrial interest of that section may lead to some practical measure at an early day and also throughout North Carolina.

SUCCESS AND DICTATORSHIP.

A Characteristic Letter from Lincoln to Hooker.

The following letter of President Lincoln to Major General Hooker is on file in Colonel Robert N. Scott's office, and has never before been made public. It was given to Colonel Scott by General Hooker himself:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., Jan. 26, 1863.—Major General Hooker—General: I have placed you at the head of the Army of the Potomac. Of course I have done this upon what appears to me to be sufficient reasons, and yet I think it best for you to know that there are some things in regard to which I am not quite satisfied with you. I belive you to be a brave and skillful soldier, which, of course, I like. I also believe you do not mix politics with your profession, in which you are right. You have confidence in yourself, which is a valuable if not indispensable quality. You are ambitious, which, within reasonable bonnds, does good rather than harm. But I think that during General Burnside's command of the army you have taken counsel of your ambition and thwarted him as much as you could, in which you did a great wrong both to the country and a most meritorious and honorable brother officer. I have heard, in such a way as to believe it, of your recently saying that both the army and the government needed a dictator. Of course it was not for this, but in spite of it, that I have given you a command. Only those generals who gain success can set up as dictators. What I ask of you is military success, and I will risk the dictatorship. The government will support you to the utmost of their ability; which is neither more nor less than it has done for all commanders. I much fear the spirit you have aided to infuse into the army, of criticising their commander and witholding confidence from him, will now turn upon you. I shall assist you as far as I can to put it down. Neither you nor Napoleon, if he were alive again, could get any good out of an army while such a spirit prevails in it. And now, beware of rashness! beware of rashness! but with energy and sleepless vigilance go forward and give us victories. Yours, very truly, A. LINCOLN."

THE ASS IN THE LION'S SKIN.

An ass having robbed a dead lion of his skin, put it on hisself, an' roamed about the forest, frightenin' all the foolish animals he met. By an' by he met an old sagacious fox, an' tried to frighten him also, but the fox waz an old 'un, an no sooner heard the sound of his voice than he exclaimed: "My Christian friend, I might have been frightened if I had not heard you bray. However, having heard the music of your chin, I of course understand that you are quite harmless." Hardly had the cunnin' fox uttered these words than the ass whirled end for end an' kicked him into the middle of nex' week.

Who can say what a day may bring forth?

THE MONKEY AND HER OFFSPRING.

Jupiter caused notices to be published in the weekly newspapers informin' the beasts of the forest that he would, durin' the holidays, give a grand fair, at which would be awarded a premium of $50 in gold to the one whose offspring should be the handsomest—25 cents a single admission, season tickets, $2.50. The monkey ken with the rest, an' presented, with all of a mother's love and tenderness, a broken-nosed, pigeon-toed, rheumy-eyed, idiotic-looking baby-monkey as a candidate for the premium, payin' therefor an entrance fee of $15. The introduction of this sad-eyed child of misfortune brought down great laughter and ridicule upon the bald yet devoted head of the parent, who, adjustin' her sunbonnet, said with much composure: "They laugh best as laugh last;" and then, clasping her son to her bosom, continued: "Ittie Georgie porgie is its own ittie, pittie, rosie, cosie, dosie, an' will scoop in the premium like a mice." The premium wuz, I regret to say, awarded elsewhere, an' the fond mother immediately denounced the whole affair as a miserable swindle, gotten up with intent to defraud by a handful of horrid old bachelors that couldn't tell a beautiful child from a yaller dog, an' so sayin' she flounced out of the room, pausin' on the threshold long enough to make faces at the committee, an' inform Jupiter that if she ever caught him under a cocoanut-tree his scandalous old head would pay the penalty.

Hell, dear children, hath no fury like a woman scorned.

GRANT IN THE SOUTH.

THE OPINION OF MR. M'CLURE AS TO HIS WEIGHT.

If He Needs Southern Electoral Votes to Make Him President He will Not Receive Them.

New York World, 8th.

A. K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, writes from Washington after a week's observation: "There is a chill on the Grant movement all through administration circles, and the stalwart leaders, who now embrace nearly all the prominent Republicans, are intent on a systematic effort to defeat the third term innovation. Secretary Sherman is the favorite candidate of the President and of the cabinet for the succession, and the little that is left of the Schurz element in official channels opposes Grant because it is unwilling to risk the return of the Grant surroundings in the highest places of Government. There is a quiet but profound feeling of hostility to Grant here among the better class of both citizens and officials. Sherman will be beaten in convention for the reasons, first, because he is the Administration candidate, and next because he is fairly chargeable with the Louisiana infamy of 1876. The Republicans will not load themselves either with Hayes or the means by which Hayes was given the Presidency over his competitor, who was elected by over 250,000 majority. There will be a clear start in the next battle. It may be Grant, it may be Blaine, but it will not be the favorite of Hayes, or of one of the Louisiana visiting statesmen.

"Inquiry among the most intelligent representative men from the reconstructed States has failed to develop anything substantial in the freely-reported Grant revolt among the Southern Conservatives. There has been considerable Grant sheet-lightning around the political horizon in the South, but while visible to all it is harmless. That the Southern people would just at this time prefer Grant to any of the stalwart Presidential aspirants is quite clear to all. Indeed, it is frankly confessed on every hand, and if Grant's election was regarded as inevitable without the support of the South, he could carry more than half the Southern States, but if the South should be called upon to prefer Grant to any one of the prominent Democratic candidates, the invitation would be declined with thanks. I believe that the Southern attitude toward Grant may be correctly summed up in a single sentence. If he can certainly be elected without the South he can get half or more of the Southern electoral votes. If he needs any electoral votes in the South to make him President he will not perceive them. Looking at the South as a factor in the Grant movement, I regard it as likely to fail in its effected offices, and Grant must be taken as a straight Republican if taken at all as the standard-bearer for 1880."

A Sad Death.

Charlotte Observer.

The town of Greensboro was greatly stirred up on Sunday by a melancholy and deplorable occurrence which came to light there on the morning of that day. During the night before Mrs. Caldwell, an esteemed lady of that place and widow of the late Newton Caldwell, Esq., an old and highly esteemed citizen, disappeared from her dwelling. Her two daughters, the eldest not quite grown, discovered her absence early in the morning and informed the neighbors. An ineffectual search was made for her for several hours, but at last her body was found in a well in the yard. It showed no signs of violence, and this with other circumstances compelled the belief that she destroyed her own life, but exactly how the deed was done is still a mystery. It is supposed, however, that she entered the well through a hole in the frame, went down by means of the pump shaft and drowned herself.

The Telephone.

There is no end, it seems, to the uses to which this wonderful modern invention may not be supplied. An exchange says: "The French war steamer Desaix had to tow out from Toulon the old ship Argonaut. A conducting wire was rolled round one of the towing cables, with an end on board each vessel. The electric current was formed by the action of the sea on the copper sheathing of the ships. A telephone was introduced in the circuit on each, and communication established between them. During the whole time of the navigation, conversation could be carried on as easily between the officers of the two vessels as if they had been seated in the same cabin. The next step was to apply the telephone to the work of the diver. One of the glasses of the helmet is replaced by a copper plate, in which is inserted a telephone, so that the man has a slight movement of the head to make in order to receive communication or report observations. The advantages of such an arrangement are obvious. Frequently at sea the necessity arises of examining the keel or bottom of a ship. The diver descends, and is able to give an account of all he sees and does, and receive instructions, without having to be brought to the surface to give explanations, as has hitherto been the case. By the use of the telephone, a man at the bottom of the sea can remain in constant verbal communication with those at the surface.

But a more wonderful achievement of the telephone still remains to be recorded. In New South Wales a Mr. Severn claims through its agency to be able to cause the deaf to hear. The telephone in question is constructed out of a tin pot, the closed end of which was opened and a piece of parchment tied over with a fine string, having a knot inside passing through the center. Mr. Severn says:

Make a loop in the string some three feet long, put this loop over the forehead of the listener (the deaf man), cause him to lay the palms of his hands flat and hard against the ears, let the loop pass over the hands, and now this listener will hear the smallest whisper, let him be deaf or not. This fact may appear extraordinary; it is nevertheless true that a deaf man may thus be made to hear the human voice, music, etc.

If this proves to be really true in practice, what a source of enjoyment will be opened up to those unfortunates, who are shut out from all the tuneful sounds of nature.

Fire in Greenville.

Charlotte Observer.

News was received in this city Sunday of a destructive fire in Greenville S. C., by which the Academy of Music, one of the handsomest and most elegantly finished buildings of that city was completely destroyed by fire. The flames burst out from the basement of the building about 3 o'clock in the morning, and although the alarm was sounded immediately and the most active efforts made to save it, it burned to the ground in a few hours. The building was owned by Mr. J. W. Cagle, of that city, and Col. Frank Coxe, of Charlotte. It had but recently been completed, and great pains and expense had been taken to fit up the theater, and when finished it was pronounced the most elegant and best furnished that any Southern city afforded with perhaps two or three exceptions. The theatre was insured for $12,000.

FROG BONES.

Novel Way to Reclaim the Affections of a Recreant Lover.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

A remarkable case of superstition came to light yesterday. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a boy called at the Central Station and informed Sergt. Devine that a woman residing at No. 112 George street had dispatched him for an officer. By adroit questioning it was ascertained that the woman had been excavating in the back yard of her premises and had discovered a small box, from which a most offensive odor proceeded, and the conclusion was jumped at that the decomposed remains of an infant were in the box. Sergeant Devine detailed Officer Conway to go to the place, and the officer was joined by Dr. C. L. Muscroft, Jr., who happened to be in the station. They went to the place and found that the box contained nothing but the dead bodies of a couple of frogs.

Then another woman in the house was questioned relative to the affair, and she stated that some time ago a young woman resided in the house who had incurred the displeasure of her betrothed, who had forsaken her. She applied to a female seer in the neighborhood for advice, and was instructed to get two frogs, and bury them, and after they were decomposed she must get a bone from each and place them in the pocket of her lover unbeknown to him. This she was told would work a cure, and ever after the smiles of her lover would be all her own. The poor deluded girl followed the instructions implicitly and in a day or so the bones would have been deposited where they would do the most good, and all would be well. But alas, her plans were frustrated, and if the recreant lover never returns to his allegiance it will all be owing to the fact that the charm was not allowed to develop. Alas, for poor humanity!

A "Lost" Negro Reported Found.

Charlotte Observer, 9th.

It was sometime in June last that Mr. Joshua Glover, and the Messrs. Bales, residents of the southern part of this county and highly respectable citizens, were arrested charged with "losing" a negro named Kingsbury whom they had arrested in Charlotte for assault and battery and were carrying to the neighborhood in which they lived for trial. It will be remembered that there were all sorts of wild reports started among the negroes as to how they got rid of him, it was even reported at one time that the body had been burned. But this was not true, and the parties making the accusations being unable to show the corpus delicti or to offer any proofs the persons were discharged. There were reports afterward that Kingsbury had been seen in South Carolina, subsequent to the time of his alleged death, but these could not be verified.

Yesterday, a negro man named J. W. Edwards, who has borne a good character in the neighborhood where he lives, a few miles south of the city, told that Kingsbury returned to his home in August after the occurrence and staid at the house of Bill Adams, colored, who was one of the accusers of Messrs. Glenn and Bales; that he remained in the county at least a day and night, and furthermore that he (Edwards) had read several letters from him, written from different points in South Carolina, Tennessee and probably one other State, and that the last letter that came was mailed at New Orleans. Edwards also says that he has been threatened by the parties who took a conspicuous part in the prosecution of those charged with losing Kingsbury, and that he is now ready to tell the whole story and can prove it. He ought to be heard.

A QUEER CASE.

Registering an American Bottom in a Foreign Country.

It is a rash thing for an impetuous foreigner to name a child after an American frigate. The Hartford Courant published a letter which Captain Bunce, of the United States Navy has received from a citizen of Konigsberg, East Prussia, wherein an unprecedented obstacle to christening is set forth. It seems that this foreigner and his wife paid a visit to the United States a year ago, and were detained in New York by the premature arrival of a little girl. The determination thus early shown by the little one to be an American induced them to call her by an American name, and, as they had no personal friends here, to name her after the United States frigate Marion, which the child's mother had happened to see and admire. They little thought that they would encounter any difficulty with their somewhat clumsy officials at home, but when they sought to have the child christened and gave the frigate's name as her godmother, there was considerable shrugging of shoulders and at last a flat refusal to comply with their request without the written consent of the party in question, according to law. What the parents are now anxious to have the captain of the vessel do is to sign this certificate: "I hereby certify as the commanding officer of the United States frigate Marion, that there is no objection to the ship being registered as godmother of the daughter of Frederick Wyneken and his wife, Mrs. Lucy Wyneken, born in the city of New York, United States, on March 9th, 1878." The father assures the captain that not the slightest liability will be incurred either by himself or by the frigate.

Information for Mark Twain.

The following letter has been sent to Mark Twain (S. L. Clement) in reply to his recent letter to the Hartford Courant criticising the order of the Postmaster-General in relation to the address on letters:

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., NOV. 30, 1879.

S. L. Clements, Esq., Hartford, Conn.:

DEAR SIR: Noticing your letter to the Hartford Courant, I take the liberty of sending you a few copies of a tract* which the Department has prepared to meet such hardened cases as yours. After reading it you will discover that the "unnecessary labor" of which you complain was really as unnecessary as the complaint itself, the only utility of which was to add to the already surplus stock of misinformation in the world and to enable some needy compositors to add several thousands to their strings, which latter end might have been just as well attained by the use of bogus. I send you, also, by this mail a copy of the postal laws and regulations. I hope you will take the trouble to read the documents, as the officers of the Department are satisfied that the order is a good thing and believe the public will sustain it when they understand it. Yours truly,

THOMAS B. KIRBY,
Private Secretary to the Postmaster General.

The Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Editor of the News

As there is an impression that I did not give a full statement relative to the discussion and adoption of the Raleigh Christian Advocate as the organ of the Conference, I supplement my report on that subject, as I disclaim any intention to do the paper or the editors any injustice. A resolution (as offered by the committee on books and periodicals) was read indorsing the Raleigh Christian Advocate as the organ of the Conference and recommending it to the patronage of our people. The Rev. M. V. Sherrill, of the committee offered a minority report, objecting to the adopting of the Raleigh Christian Advocate as the organ of the Conference. As stated in yesterday's NEWS this provoked a discussion, but I may have done injustice to some who participated in this discussion, in that I did not state which report they advocated. I cheerfully do so now. The Revs. W. M. Robey, J. T. Bagwell, F. D. Swindell and J. R. Brooks advocated the adoption of the substitute. Dr. N. H. D. Wilson, Dr. B. Craven, V. A. Sharp, Rev. R. S. Webb, Rev. P. J. Carraway and R. R. Crawford, Esq., lay delegate, advocated the adoption of the first report as offered by the committee.

On motion to adopt the substitute it was lost—and the original report was adopted by an overwhelming majority.

Looking Out for Home.

Washington Star.

"Are you going to have the National Republican Convention held in Cincinnati?" asked the Star man of Colonel Keogh, a member of the committee from North Carolina, this morning.

"No, sir," answered the Colonel with emphasis. "We have had enough of Cincinnati. The newspapers there don't treat us fair."

"Well, where will it be?" said the Star man.

"I think," said the Colonel, "I shall vote for Greensboro, N. C., but I should not be surprised if the Convention was held in Chicago early in June, although there is a chance that Philadelphia may be selected as the place.

A Rice Mill.

New Berne Democrat.

In accordance with the instructions of Major Hughes, we learn that the machinery intended for the rice mill, which he contemplates erecting at an early day in this city, has been thoroughly tested and has given entire satisfaction; it does the work thoroughly and well. This machine is of recent invention, and though it was most highly recommended, Mr. Hughes nevertheless has taken the precaution to have it thoroughly tested before being shipped, so that when it arrives, there will be no delays and after disappointments, as is too often the case with new undertakings, it will be at once placed into position, and its successful operation can be confidently predicted.

A Startling Discourse.

A Lexington (Ky.) dispatch to the Courier-Journal says:

"There is unrest in the bosoms of the religious. Rev. Dr. Pratt, of Richmond University, preached a sermon on Sunday, in the First Presbyterian church, upon the subject of the Virgin Mary and Christ's regard for her. He aims to upset the Catholic doctrine of the intercession of the Blessed Virgin by showing that the Saviour of mankind cared little or nothing for his mother; that she was not a believer in his divinity until the last, and that she did not benefit by the scheme of salvation until other poor sinners came in with her. With these and like arguments he shocked his hearers, for in the effort to destroy the Catholic doctrine he robbed the Messiah of one of his most beautiful attributes—filial love. The sermon is very much discussed, and generally adversely.

Last week in the neighborhood of Scotland Neck Mr. Fred Lewter's gin house was burned to the ground, together with about two thousand pounds of lint, five thousand of seed cotton, and all the cotton seed which had accumulated during the season. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary, from the fact that no ginning or work of any kind had been done there that day and the building was some distance from any other house. There was no insurance, and Mr. Lewter loses the whole. This fire was in the immediate neighborhood of the place where Mr. W. H. Shields gin house was burned about two weeks ago, an account of which we gave at the time.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1879.

ARKANSAS is moving forward in the front rank of cotton producing States The Little Rock Democrat says that next year the crop of that State will be second to no other.

THE world's visible supply of cotton Saturday, December 6th, was 2,128,505 bales, against 1,985,300 bales at the same time last year, showing a difference of 143,205 bales in favor of this year's supply.

EX-GOVERNOR SEYMOUR is not a candidate for President, and will not be under any contingency, and yet the silly boom will go right on—same as before.—Washington Republican.

And yet the Republican seems mightly afraid of it.

THE Tribune of Sunday says: "Mr Greeley printed a regular Sunday edition of the Tribune in 1861. Since then we have contented ourselves with a paper six days in the week." It will be news to many that Editor Gould took possession of the tripod when Mr. Greeley discontinued the Sunday edition of that paper.

THE Atlanta Constitution, in speaking of the business "boom," states that "the 'boom' does not work well in the newspaper business. It does not lead to an advance in the price of subscription or of advertising; and yet it has put white paper up 33 per cent. and ink and other material in about the same proportion." And that is just about the size of it.

THE London Times in discussing that part of the President's message relating to the legal tender notes, furnishes the opinion that if the United States legal-tender notes in circulation be called in and canceled, silver dollars must take their place, and the existing plethora will be relieved. Further relief will come in due time from the natural action of trade. Money that has flowed in such profusion from Europe to the United States cannot always remain there. Its presence will be felt in the rise of prices throughout the Union, and as soon as the rise has been established a demand for European goods will follow and the current of money from the eastern to the western shores of the Atlantic will be arrested if not reversed. A process of this kind cannot be completed within a week or a month, but its development may be anticipated as confidentially as the movement of the tides.

THE House rules, through the recent revision, are reduced from one hundred and sixty-six to fifty. And important change is that which devotes the morning hour, except on Monday, which is bill day, to the reception of committees' reports, which are to be referred to the calendar unless unanimous consent is given to take action on them. Committees can, therefore, report from day to-day. The river and harbor bill will hereafter be more thoroughly discussed by its reference to the Appropriations Committee after it comes from the Committee on Commerce, instead of being reported directly to the House from the latter committee. The adoption of the order of business rules will make it impossible for a minority to fritter away the morning hour in dilatory motions, and the business of the committees will be greatly expedited.

IT is nearly forty years since the world was startled by the announcement of Payne's invention whereby he was to evolve light from water and do away with candles and sperm oil, However, in the saying of the day, he did not set the Hudson river on fire, and Payne and his invention have almost faded from the memory of the people. Now steps on the stage A. D. Woodman, of Chicago, about to astonish the world, having invented a machine by which he makes water burn. The machine disintegrates water and bringing its components parts together again produces light, heat or steam as he chooses. The light is brilliant and beautiful, the heat is intense, and by turning a valve the light is changed to steam. A large generator is being prepared to make a thorough test of the discovery. Woodman is an educated chemist and machinist.

THE SEYMOUR BOOM.

Notwithstanding the expressions of unconcern as to who may be the Democratic Presidential candidate, the Washington Republican appears to be seriously exercised over the almost spontaneous suggestion that Horatio Seymour be put forward as the standard bearer of the Democracy in 1880. We say spontaneous, for though the Washington Post was the first to make the suggestion yet the moment his name was put forward it was seized upon with such eagerness on all sides that Mr. Seymour himself must have been astonished. The Republicans were, if possible, more surprised than Mr. Seymour; they recognized at once the fact if Mr. Seymour would consent the strongest Democratic candidate in the United States was before them, and if they would vanquish him they would have to rally every straggling soldier of their force, and then their chances would be slim.

Their only hope is that Mr. Seymour, having stated his resolve to remain in retirement, he will not break it. He has stated that he does not feel able to enter a campaign—that his health will not admit of it; yet, although seventy years of age, so even has been the tenor of his life that his constitution is not broken and he retains the full vigor of his mental endowments. He was never robust—neither was he weakly; he never committed excesses to tell upon him physically, and to-day it may safely be asserted that he is stronger than his brother-in-law, Roscoe Conkling.

And the mention of the latter's name furnishes another idea. Ex-Governor Seymour is known and respected the length and breadth of the Empire State. He can do what no other can, be he Republican or Democrat, and that is to carry the farming element irrespective of party with him, and Mr. Conkling would certainly not labor strenuously against Mr. Seymour, for they are old-time and firm friends as well as relatives. The Republican says:

Speaking of the Seymour boom, Mr. Wallace said he was coached by Mr. Tilden for the purpose of overshadowing Mr. Bayard and the other candidates before the national convention should assemble.

Now this is all moonshine. There was no "coaching" about it. The strongest advocates of Mr. Seymour are warm friends of Mr. Bayard and bitter opponents of Mr. Tilden. The latter, no matter how much he may figure for it, has lost his hold on the masses, and if through some unfortunate chance he should manage to obtain the nomination still his chances for election would be slim indeed. The people would show an apathy that would be discouraging to say the least. He would not carry Florida and even North Carolina would be extremely doubtful. A common place candidate like Governor Foster, of Ohio, would beat him.

If Mr. Speaker Randall has set out to destroy Mr. Bayard's chances he will find himself in the wrong pew. If Mr. Seymour declines a nomination by acclamation then the South with its ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT Electoral votes will demand the nomination of Mr. Bayard. It will be impossible to create a Southern sentiment averse to that gentleman. Mr. Tilden's strength was in his presumed ability to carry New York. He has demonstrated his inability so to do, and as for Mr. Randall's chances they may be represented by the sign ——.

OF the 50,000,000 of people in this country the South comprises less than 20,000,000, or about two-fifths. And this popular minority essays to rule the remaining three-fifths by virtue of caucus dictation wherein a half a dozen Bourbon Brigadiers, combined with a few mongrel Northern Doughfaces, give out the law and gospel for the majority party in our Democratic Congress. But their attempts are, happily futile, and the day is not far distant when this aggressive and impudent, as well as imprudent, exercise of domineering power will no longer be possible. The next census will serve to rearrange and equitably redistribute the balance of sectional power in the country, so that the accession of the colored vote to Southern citizenship will no longer work to the political disadvantage of those who created it.—Washington Republican.

Strange to relate, according to law this impudent two-fifths is entitled to a certain representation, such representation amounting to 138 votes in the Electoral College. If the Democrats carry New York and Indiana it gives them 47 additional votes, making a total of 188. It would seem reasonable, therefore, that the half-dozen Bourbon Brigadiers, as the Republicans delight in terming them, with a clear majority of 88 should have some little to say in the matter. This view, perhaps, strikes the Republican as well, as it threatens, apparently in the name of the party, by the aid of the Republican census machinery, to "rearrange and equitably redistribute the balance of sectional power in the country," which is nothing more than an impudent boast that men will appointed who will not scruple to reduce the actual population. This has been feared for some time, and now that the President's Washington organ comes out and openly avows it we shall know what to expect.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It is stated that for services rendered the Readjusters, Mr. R. L. G. Paige, the colored gentleman from Norfolk county, is to have the naming of the county judge of that county.

The Lynchburg News, debt-payer, says if a forcible Readjuster has to be chosen United Senator from Virginia, it prefers Hon. James Barbour, who has never ceased to proclaim himself a Democrat.

My wish was that the President should be elected for seven years and be ineligible afterward. This term I thought sufficient to enable him, with the concurrence of the Legislature, to carry through and establish any system of improvement he should purpose for general good. But the practice adopted, I think, is better, allowing his continuance for eight years, with a liability to be propped at half way of the term, making that a period of probation. The example of four Presidents voluntarily retiring at the end of their eight years, and the progress of public opinion that the principle is salutary, have given it the force of precedent and usage; insomuch that should a President consent to be a candidate for a third election, I trust he would be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views.—Thomas Jefferson.

In a Hurry.

Philadelphia Times.

Ex-Governor Hendricks was in considerable of a hurry to tie himself to the coat tails of Ex-Governor Seymour. There may still be hope that a man will some day rise up with sufficient popularity to drag the favorite son of Indiana into the second position under the government.

What Blaine Expects.

Philadelphia Times.

Senator Blaine's papers down in Maine are all poking fun at the President's message. Blaine expects some day to show the country what a President's message should be, and he won't waste any time over civil service reform.

Jay Gould's View of It.

It is the business of a newspaper to print the news as early as it can. It is the business of the government to keep its own secrets. When it does not, it must not fall back heiplessly upon the newspaper to keep them for it.

Washington Irving's Mistake.

Washington Irving thought there could be nothing more dreary than a wayside inn on a wet Sunday. But he was mistaken. For unrelieved dreariness it is not to be compared to a country newspaper with the President's Message in full.

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with flux, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility, is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated. Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS thereon. Also DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Behold Me a Well Woman.

CANCER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 26, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON.

DEAR SIR:—I have for years been a sufferer from a dreadful CANCER in my side which caused me untold agony, and as I am a widow with a family dependent upon my exertions for a support, my pain of body was only equalled by my pain of mind, at seeing my children want for bread. I was presented by a kind friend in Cincinnati with half a dozen bottles of Vegetine, and although one bottle is still untouched, behold me a well woman, completely restored in body and mind, and able to perform my accustomed duties. Long may you live and may the history of my wonderful cure lead other like sufferers to purchase your valuable medicine, if it is with the last cent they possess.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. FULLER SUTT.

GOODMAN, MISS., May 6, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I have been suffering for 25 years with the Piles and found but little relief from any medicine that I have taken for many years past. Last winter I suffered considerably worse than ever before, also in connection with Rheumatism I was confined to my bed for several weeks. Having procured a bottle of Vegetine I took it with good effect. I continued the use, and after taking four or five bottles, find myself comparatively cured. I can cheerfully recommend it for the benefits that I have received from it.

Yours respectfully,

I take great pleasure in recommending your Vegetine. I have been suffering for a long time with the Lung Disease; trying every kind of medicine that I could get, but none seemed to do me any good, until I tried your great Vegetine remedy. I had used it only a short time before I could discover a very great change in my health for the better. I don't consider that your medicine has its equal, for the diseases which you propose to cure, especially the disease that I have been afflicted with

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.

I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, Bap.

It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Va. Cont.

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, Sr., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.

This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Battledore and Shuttlecock.

Love comes no more, or rarely comes
Again to his deserted homes;
To hearts that once have loved, and yet
Must now remember to forget.

So thought I as but yesterday
I passed out with Louise to play
Upon the lawn at battledore;
Yet "love is love forevermore!"

Our game soon ended; 'neath the limes
We sat and talked of olden times;
"Two years ago!" 'Tis long," she said,
"Since last we met; we thought you dead!"

A sadness as of discontent
Was in her loving speech, that lent
Enchantment to the linden trees;
I spoke her name, I said: "Louise,

"When last we met, too young, 'tis true,
Was my heart's love for love of you;
Will you forgive if I avow
You loved me then, I love you now?"

She turned, a smile was on her face;
She turned but for a moment's space;
Yet ere her hand in mine she'd lay,
Her timorous glances seemed to say:

"A battledore too long we've play'd,
Now you, now I—yet I'm afraid;
Will you be true if I too vow
I loved you then, I—love you now!"

A kiss upon the lips is a mortgage upon a girl's affections, which may be foreclosed at any time.—Keokuk Constitution.

"Your intended is hideous," says a frank French friend. "True," says the fiancee, "but if you only knew how they notice me when he's along!"

After spending three mortal hours in getting to windward and crawling carefully toward two supposed big buffaloes, a Western hunter found his supposed game to be a St. Louis girl taking a walk on the prairie with her earmuff on.

An unhappy young wife on the West Side writes to know what she can do to get rid of a husband who persists in loving her in spite of continued rebuffs, and wants information as to what she can do to make him consent to a separation. If the lady will join the South Side Cooking Club, and then steer the old man against some mince pies of her own manufacture, we know a man who will bet big money that the husband will be prepared to pack up on the following morning.

Soft as silk with golden hair,
Bright as stars were her eyes of blue;
Truly I love my lady fair,
Truly my lady loved me too.
Did it break my heart when my love
lay dead?
Why, bless your soul, she didn't die,
Time wrought a change as it onward
sped;
She loves another—so do I.

HANDY HUSBANDS.

And Why Some Men Don't Get Along Better:

Detroit Free Press.

The question of how much a man enjoying a fair salary pays out for cigars is generally offset by the query of how much raw material his wife throws out of the pantry window, and neither question, answer them as you may, has more than an indirect bearing on the prosperity of the family. Fifty cents out of a husband's pocket weekly is only twenty-six dollars at the end of the year, and the waste in the kitchen cannot be much more. The loss of fifty dollars per year by slow degrees is not enough to justify a family council around the gate to discuss the question "Why don't we get along better?"

There may be reasons which the family will never entertain, and which they could not offset if they desired. Take the case of almost any moderately well off family in Detroit, and you will be pretty sure to find that both husband and wife are what may be termed handy folks. The gates are all in order, the doors never sag, the fences are in fine repair, and the whole place has an air of neatness and order. Nature was kind to that man. She gave him a handy twist of the wrist. You'll find that he has a workshop somewhere about the house or barn. Years ago he bought him saws, planes, chisels, square, compass and other handy tools, and there is hardly a day in the week he doesn't use them.

If a gate-hinge breaks he repairs damages at once, and saves the cost of two hinges. If a door settles, off it comes and the plane takes off a shaving from top or bottom. If a caster is loose on bedstead or bureau he has gimlet and screws. If a shingle blows from the roof he has nails an i hammer. Added to his store of tools is a pot of paint, and a brushful here and there keeps things tidy. A handy husband will put up hooks and shelves, take off a gas-burner and clean it, lay a carpet, plaster up a hole in the kitchen wall, box the water pipes, paint the steps, put a lock on the door, varnish a chair, repair a clothes-horse, or do any other odd needed job.

"How much do you suppose this load of stuff cost me?" asked a second-hand dealer of a citizen the other day.

The "stuff" included a lounge which could have been covered with chintz for forty cents, two broken clothes-horses, a washstand with the casters off, a kitchen table with a leaf split, a set of bed-springs with a slat broken, and various other things needing the attention of a handy man. They cost, when new, all of a hundred dollars. A handy man would have made everything fit for use at a cost of two dollars, and yet the dealer paid only four dollars for the lot.

A carpenter will not go to a house and put in a new sash-cord in a window-sash, put a new lock on a door, drive six nails into the back steps, or put up a shelf short of fifty cents, and he will generally demand a dollar. A handy man can save this bill. A tinner will not go to a house and set up a stove for less than a dollar. Wall paper costing forty cents per roll gives a paper hanger twenty cents per roll for his work. A handy husband soon learns to paper any room outside of a parlor. A painter will charge twelve shillings to put one coat on a pair of front steeps. A handy man will do the work at a cost of forty cents for material. A glazier will not leave the shop to replace a broken pane of glass for less than fifty cents. A handy man has putty and a knife in his workshop. It is almost every day that you hear some one say: "I've got to stop and send up a carpenter and painter. I've got about fifty odd jobs around the house which ought to have been done long ago."

When the men get through they have a bill of $20 or $25, or more and yet have done nothing which a handy man could not have done at odd moments. It is not two weeks since that a man sent a mile for a locksmith to see what ailed the lock on one of the doors, as he could not get the key into it. The locksmith came, swung the door open, and charged one dollar for pulling out a trunk key which a child had inserted on the other side!

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1879.

Entered at the Postoffice at Raleigh, N. C., as second-class matter.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.

For the South Atlantic States rising barometer, northwest winds, backing to southwesterly and generally cooler and clear or clearing weather.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Cotton still booming.

——Internal revenue receipts yesterday, $1,272.24.

——Our merchants are stocking up for the holidays.

——Cotton: Middling, 12⅝. Receipts yesterday 517 bales. Tone of market firm.

——Two marriage licenses were issued yesterday. More build-dozing in the South.

——The organ-grinders having disappeared the mosquitoes are now supplying the music.

——Merrill's cave, in front of the market house, is increasing in magnitude.

——A license was issued yesterday to John R. Long, of Baltimore, to sell Long's prepared chemicals for composting.

——The champion mixologist and delineator of cocktail architecture is the last name for a bartender. The Washington Gazette is the author.

——Prof. Slater, who gives saltatory instructions to the youth hereabout, took possession of Professor Lincke's gymnasium for a short time yesterday afternoon for a practice hall.

——There is a large box standing in the roadway on Martin street in front of the north end of the postoffice building against which some blind horse will crack his shins some dark night.

——Yesterday Marshall Parks, Esq., president of the Albemarle & Chesapeake Canal Company, surrendered at the treasurer's office $100,000 of old bonds. In exchange the State surrendered its stock in the Canal and no new bonds were issued.

——Yesterday Rowan county settled its tax in full, amounting to $7,630.06, and sent ten convicts along to guard the treasure, after which duty being performed they went to take an inside view of the extensive building in course of erection just west of the city.

——The Wilmington Star of yesterday morning announces the death in New York of Dr. J. Francis King, of the former city, on Sunday, 7th instant. Dr. King was most favorably known in the medical circles of the State. For the benefit of his family he carried an insurance policy of $15,000 issued by the Connecticut Mutual Life.

——Pomp Bryan still hangs on to Joe Jefferson's show bills, waiting for the advance agent. He was on top of the Capitol all day yesterday with a large spy-glass trying to see if there wasn't a vacant space where he could post another one of Blackwell's bills, but he finally gave it up, and then wrapped three around his pony and tried to sell him as a zebra.

—On Friday evening next at Peace Institute the old and the young folk will compete in concert for popular praise. The quaint fashions of a century ago have furnished grounds for much mirth in this weaker and wiser generation, but those old-time people were royal people, possessing only about one-fourth the educational advantages as compared with to-day, and "store clothes" were not to be obtained without money, a scarce article with the majority in those days. They had no trained choirs, supported by a pipe organ to swell the harmonies, and a fiddle was an abomination. The pitch was sounded with a turning-fork or a pitch-pipe, and the congregation joined in the singing. They would have raised their hands in holy horror if any rash being had attempted to force Moody and Sankey's hymns on them; they would have considered them better adapted to the theater than to a house of divine worship. For the old hymns were solemn, impressive, beautiful, while those of to-day are frothy; they last a year, perhaps, and are then consigned to the shades. Just think of it! Miss Clephane's beautiful poem of "The Ninety and Nine" set to the music of a minstrel hall dance. However, those that pay have the right to say what they shall have in the line of church music, and those that wish to see the difference between the old and the new styles will not forget the concert on Friday evening.

St. John's Guild.

There will be a regular meeting of St. John's Guild this evening at 8 o'clock. A full meeting is desired as business of importance will be considered.

Knights of Honor.

A regular meeting of Oak City Lodge No. 419, Knights of Honor, will be held to-night at 7 o'clock. Work in the degree of Infancy. Visiting brethren are invited to attend.

Died.

At his home near this City on the 6th of December from injury received at his gin, Mr. Walter S. Tucker, in the 47th year of his age.

Winston, Richmond and Danville, papers please copy.

Mayor's Court.

Thomas Henly was brought up on a warrant for larceny. Committed in default of $100 bail.

Allen Richardson was arraigned for assault and threatening his wife. Committed in default of $100 bail.

Suggestion to Santa Claus.

We would suggest to this "good old gentleman" that it will be well for him to take advantage of this pleasant weather and lay in his supply of Christmas presents for the children. Santa Claus headquarters at Alfred Williams & Co.'s bookstore.

State School Books.

The school books recommended by the State Board of Education are being rapidly introduced by the public schools of the State. Messrs. Alfred Williams & Co. are publisher's agents for the books and will furnish them to teachers and dealers at introductory prices. Send for price list.

Penitentiary Arrivals.

Deputy sheriff Hardinson, of Martin county, turned over to the penitentiary authorities yesterday the following-named prisoners: Sylvester Wells, ten years; Richard Thompson, seven years; Rance Harris and Charles Tanbolt, two years each. All colored and all for larceny.

Sheriff Taylor, of Chatham county, turned over Jack Gattis, Jack Mayhew, Jack Taylor and Dan Brewer to the authorities of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad. Only three jacks and a bob-tail flush in that hand.

An Omission.

The Rev. N. M. Jurney, who reported the proceedings of the North Carolina M. E. Conference for the NEWS, writes an explanatory note, which is herewith appended:

In my hurriedly-written report of the Conference, there were several things left out that should have been included, but it is human to err. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That each preacher in the Conference use every effort possible to send at least one student to Trinity College, and that if necessary and possible we will aid in paying his expenses.

I also failed to speak of Wilson's hospitalities as I desired. The oldest preachers in the Conference say they have never known the Conference so well entertained. Everything was in great abundance, and the Wilson people seemed happy, and the Conference was no less so.

The indebtedness of the Publishing House at Nashville is $300,000 instead of $3,000, as stated in yesterday's NEWS.

The Mile End Cotton, sold by Yeargan, Petty & Co., wrapped on black spools, is manufactured by Messrs. John Clark, Jr., & Co., of Glascow, Scotland, who employ over 2,000 persons in making this one article. Few who look upon a spool of thread are aware of the immense capital, skill, and enterprise necessary for its production.

Mean Competition.

Since the introduction of Patapsco Baking Powder on the market and the complete revolution it has effected in the trade, venders of unreliable powders have sought to sell their goods on the popularity of Patapsco by claiming the same popularity. Don't believe them: Stick to what you know to be good.

Delightful Bouquets.

Dr. Price's Meadow Flowers, Evening Violet, Lily of the Valley, Pet Rose, and his handkerchief perfumes, are delightful bouquets. They are certainly the most exquisite scents that can be imagined—the odor of dainty buds and rich blossoms.

I offer for sale my running horse Pill Box, who came from the plow last August, having made a crop, and ran with 2 weeks' handling against trained thoroughbred race horses of reputation, beating them in half mile, mile and two miles races, at the Raleigh and Weldon fairs. He is a bright bay, fine form, and remarkably stylish, and is a most excellent saddle and double harness horse, is (6) six years passed, perfectly sound. Also Flora and Dora, a pair dark bay mares, aged 5 and 6, of beautiful form, a match in color, size, and gait, sound, and not at all afraid of cars—an excellent coach team. And lastly Jack and Jim, a pair of bright bays, 6 and 8 years old. Jack is a bad runaway horse; Jim will not only run but kicks. This team is warranted as represented; special inducements will be offered a buyer. All at J. D. Whitaker's wood, coal and lumber yard, West Hargett St.

Practical Economy.

Before Patapsco Baking Powders was patented and placed on the market, consumers had to pay 50 cents per pound for the Old Rat Powders. You can now buy Patapsco for about one-half that amount. This accounts for the popularity of Patapsco.

For Sale.

Make a Note of This.

Professor Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Journal to the effect that after all other means had failed he sent for the Kidney Cure, (now Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterward found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney diseases.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

THE SUN FOR 1880.

THE SUN will deal with the events of the year 1880 in its own fashion, now pretty well understood by everybody. From January 1st until December 31st it will be conducted as a newspaper, written in the English language, and printed for the people.

As a newspaper, the SUN believes in getting all the news of the world promptly, and presenting it in the most intelligible shape—the shape that will enable its readers to keep well abreast of the age with the least unproductive expenditure of time. The greatest interest to the greatest number—that is the law controlling its daily make-up. It now has a circulation very much larger than that of any other American newspaper, and enjoys an income which it is at all times prepared to spend liberally for the benefit of its readers. People of all conditions of life and all ways of thinking buy and read THE SUN; and they all derive satisfaction of some sort from its columns, for they keep on buying and reading it.

In its comments on men and affairs, THE SUN believes that the only guide of policy should be common sense, inspired by genuine American principles and backed by honesty of purpose. For this reason it is, and will continue to be, absolutely independent of party, class, clique, organization, or interest. It is for all, but of none. It will continue to praise what is good and reprobate what is evil, taking care that its language is to the point and plain, beyond the possibility of being misunderstood. It is uninfluenced by motives that do not appear on the surface; it has no opinions to sell, save those which may be had by any purchaser with two cents. It hates imbecile and rascality even more than it hates unnecessary words. It abhors frauds, pities fools, and deplores nincompoops of every species. It will continue throughout the year 1880 to chastise the first class, instruct the second, and discountenance the third. All honest men, with honest convictions, whether sound or mistaken are its friends. And THE SUN makes no bones of telling the truth to its friends and about its friends whenever occasion arises for plain speaking.

These are the principles upon which THE SUN will be conducted during the year to come.

The year 1880 will be one in which no patriotic American can afford to close his eyes to public affairs. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of the political events which it has in store, or the necessity of resolute vigilance on the part of every citizen who desires to preserve the Government that the founders gave us. The debates and acts of Congress, the utterances of the press, the exciting contests of the Republican and Democratic parties, now nearly equal in strength throughout the country, the varying drift of public sentiment, will all bear directly and effectively upon the twenty fourth Presidential election, to be held in November. Four years ago next November the will of the nation, as expressed at the polls, was thwarted by an abominable conspiracy, the promoters and beneficiaries of which still hold the offices they stole. Will the crime of 1876 be repeated in 1880? The past decade of years opened with a corrupt, extravagant, and insolent Administration intrenched at Washington. THE SUN did something toward dislodging the gang and breaking its power. The same men are now intriguing to restore their leader and themselves to places from which they were driven by the indignation of the people. Will they succeed? The coming year will bring the answers to these momentous questions. THE SUN will be on hand to chronicle the facts as they are developed, and to exhibit them clearly and fearlessly in their relations to expediency and right.

Thus, with a habit of philosophical good humor in looking at the minor affairs of life, and in great things a steadfast purpose to maintain the rights of the people and the principles of the Constitution against all aggressors, THE SUN is prepared to write a truthful, instructive, and at the same time entertaining history of 1880.

Our rates of subscription remain unchanged. For the Daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post-paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1 20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.
